Annual Sentinels Make '81 Green & White

During the night while most people were sleeping and during the day while most people were busy, the 1981 Annual Staff was busy making the best yearbook ever. They took pictures, listened, and observed all their was at IHS. Then they went back to their secret headquarters and worked for very long hours. Occasionally, however, some staff members did appear in public.

Staff member Tasha Daniels frequently takes a break for "Brain Food."

Mr. Chick Is Number 1 In '81 And Always . . .

Not only does Mr. Vern Chick have a special love for IHS students and IHS, he has a special desire to make sure that things go well for everyone. This is especially evident in his job as athletic director which he has held for the past 7 years. The behind the scene work for all athletic events is done by Mr. Chick who not only checks on game schedules, but also checks on officials being present, and the ambulance arriving on time, and the equipment being in good working condition. He is the detailer of school athletics who not only takes his job seriously, but loves it, operating by the rule in every sport.

Sports, however, are nothing new to Mr. Chick because he has participated in them all of his life. Growing up in Abingdon, Illinois, he dreamed, as a young boy, of being a coach someday. He has coached basketball, track, baseball, and football, here at IHS. He was even on the basketball team in the Air Force. He also participated in sports at Western Illinois where he earned his master's and bachelor's degree.

Among other things, Mr. Chick, who is the Ocean League CIF Council

Representative, attends many CIF council and board meetings for the CIF and South Bay Athletic Association making major decisions about the athletic program. According to wife, Dottie, he is just the person for this job as he is a walking encyclopedia about the rules for all sports' contests. In addition to sports, Mr. Chick has also taught biology, science, and history.

On the personal side Mr. Chick has 6 children, 4 girls and 2 boys, eleven grandchildren who live in Utah, Virginia, and California. His favorite hobby is crossword puzzles. Wife Dottie claims that they are even number one before her. He also enjoys gardening and fishing and all sports. Another interesting feature about Mr. Chick is that he always knows someone everywhere he goes, usually a former student. Amazingly enough he will always remember their names, no matter how long ago he had the student in class, and that covers a span of twenty-two years.

For all of his dedication of and beyond the call of duty the 1981 Green and White is proudly dedicated to Vern Chick.

Mr. Vern Chick

Above: Mr. Thomas confers with Mr. Reamer, Dad's Club President.

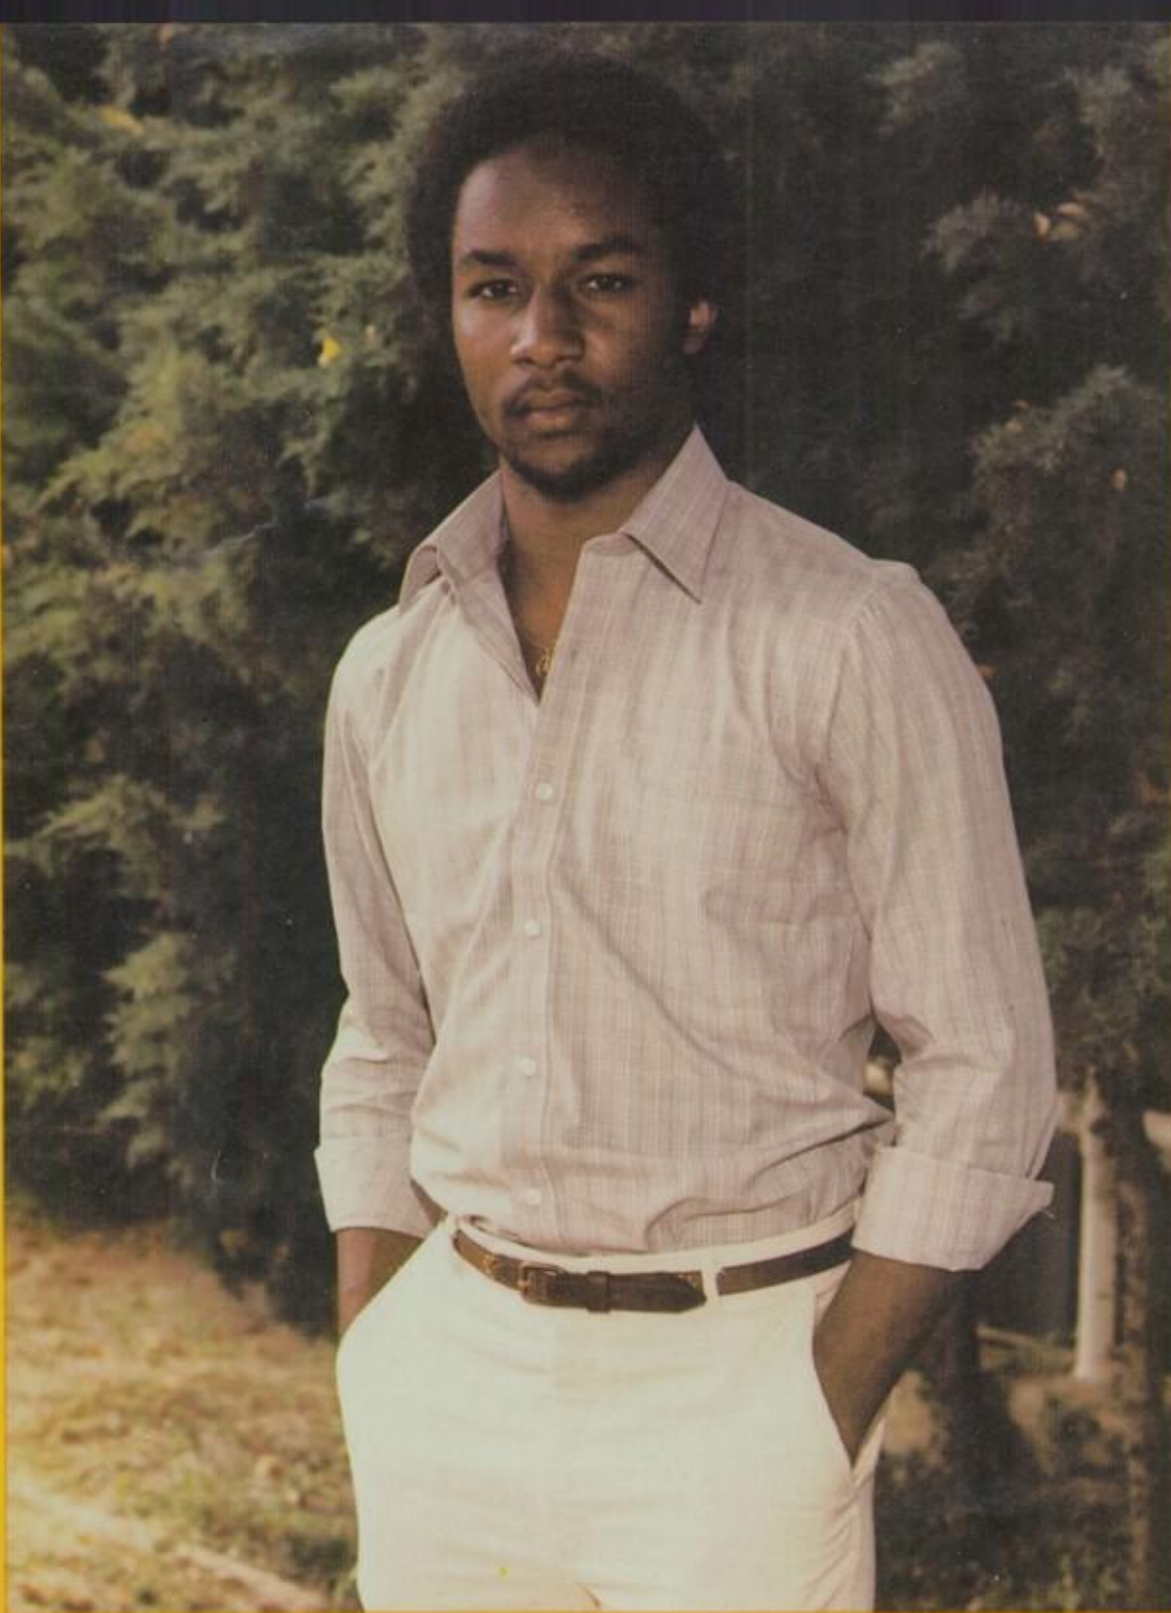

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn once told our 1980 C.I.F. championship basketball team at a special banquet given in their honor that "you should always be proud of your school because it gave you the opportunity to refine your ability." These words hold real meaning to many who have experienced achievement and growth as a result of educational and interpersonal experiences. Too often the unappreciative mind only sees negatives and builds towers of thoughts infiltrated with pessimism. The success oriented person, team, or school, however, can be observed to have certain identifiable traits. There is generally a positive feeling regarding the individual and the institutions that are responsible for the obtained success. The statement, "if you can conceive it, and believe it, you can achieve it" fosters a feeling of positiveness that starts with the individual and spreads to the school and the community. Inglewood High School will continue to instill this in the minds of every single student during my administrative tenure.

I am proud to be principal of Inglewood High School.

Sincerely,

Louis C. Thomas

You Are Someone Special

Looking back on the 1980-81 school year we found ourselves faced with numerous challenges and obstacles, but somehow we managed to come through full of spirit. We have achieved our goals, and we hope to conquer more. The essence of my goal this year was to promote student involvement, school spirit, and a better student-teacher understanding. As students our main priority was the enrichment of our minds, souls, and bodies. As time progresses, I would like to see the students grasping all they can, for the betterment of our society.

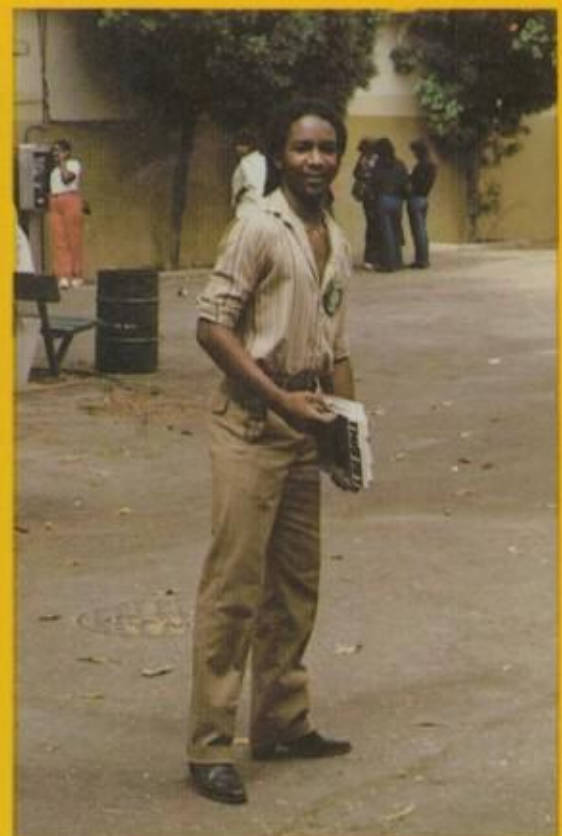

I hoped that this academic year Inglewood High would help form the character of each of us. In return we would have to try to instill within the students of our school an overwhelming feeling of pride and accomplishment.

With time at hand, we have sought, we have progressed, and now we will lead. Remember to be a success you must think of yourself as someone special, have pride in yourself, be prepared for any challenges.

Students of Inglewood High you are "Someone Special."

Seniors Survive 4 Years

It has been rumored that the Seniors of IHS have not only survived 4 years, but were officially initiated Sentinals by the taking of this photograph. The traditional Senior Square was brightly painted royal blue, baby blue, and white keeping in the spirit of class colors. Congratulations, Seniors.

Up, Up, and away jump Dierdre Dudley and Reggie Canty.

"Mm, mm, good," says Ricky Dubois.

Edmund Hamilton takes the flavor test.

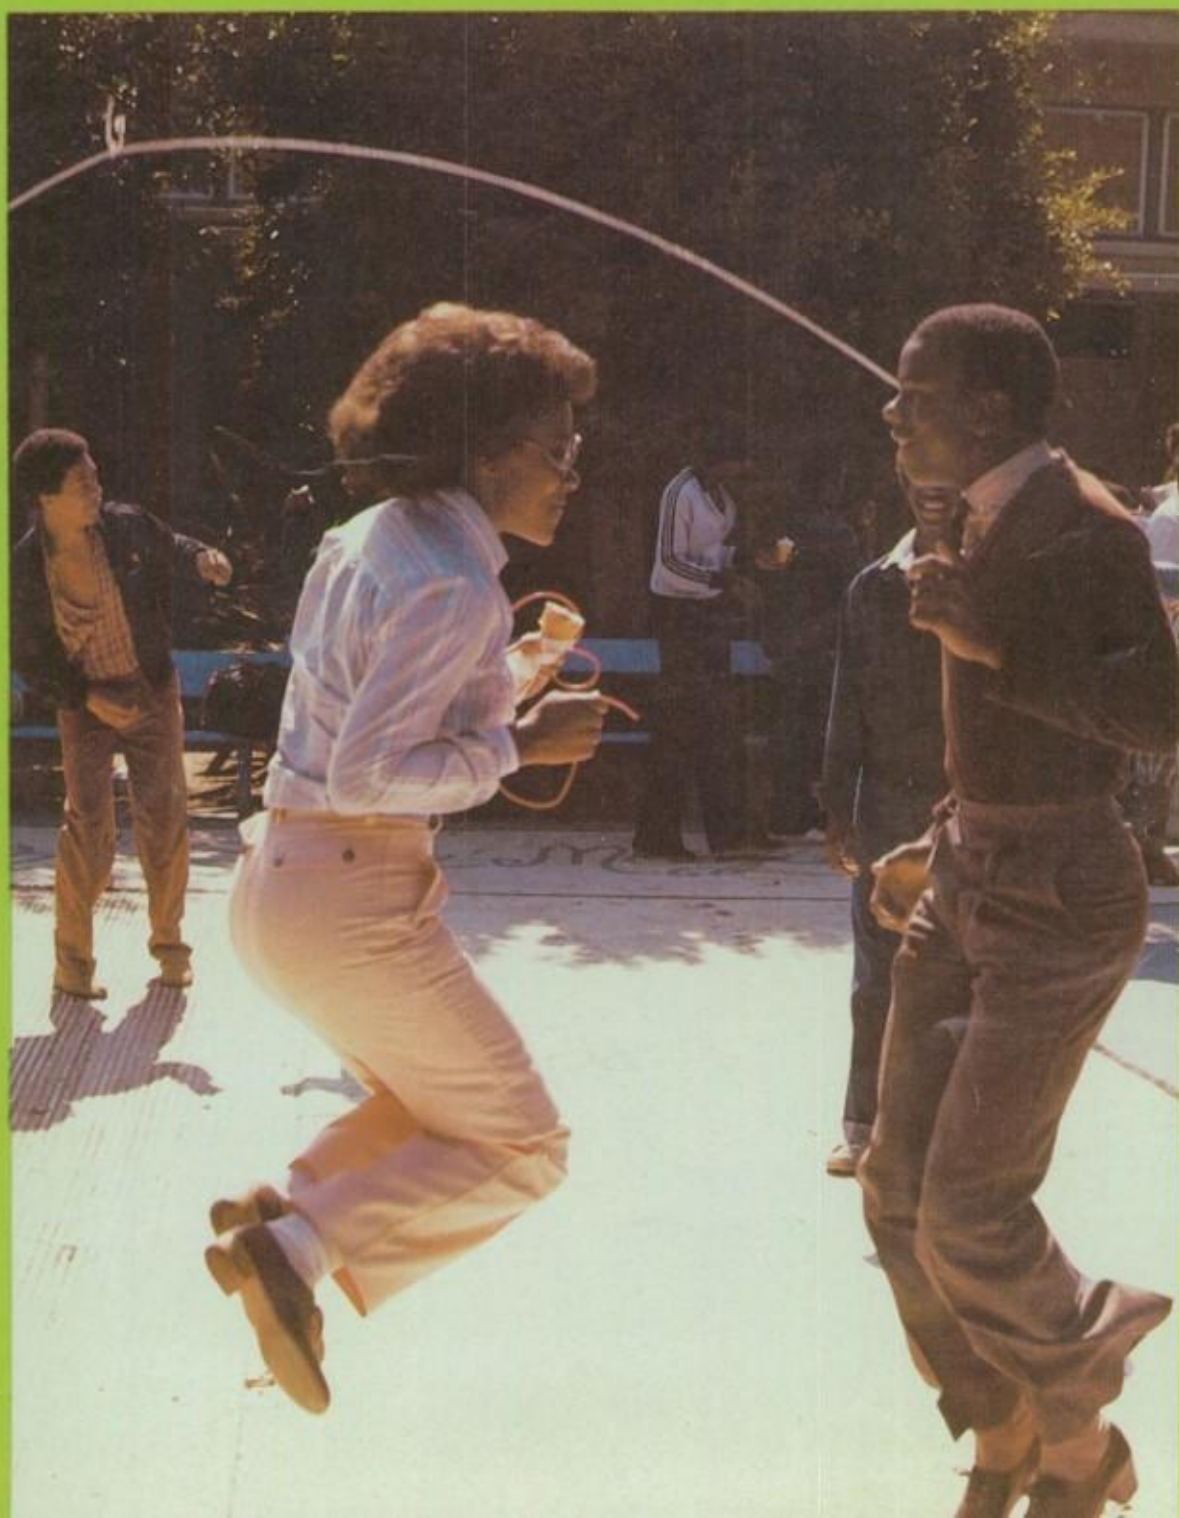

Stay Off The Streets And Come To The Party!

Hail! Hail! the gang's all here.

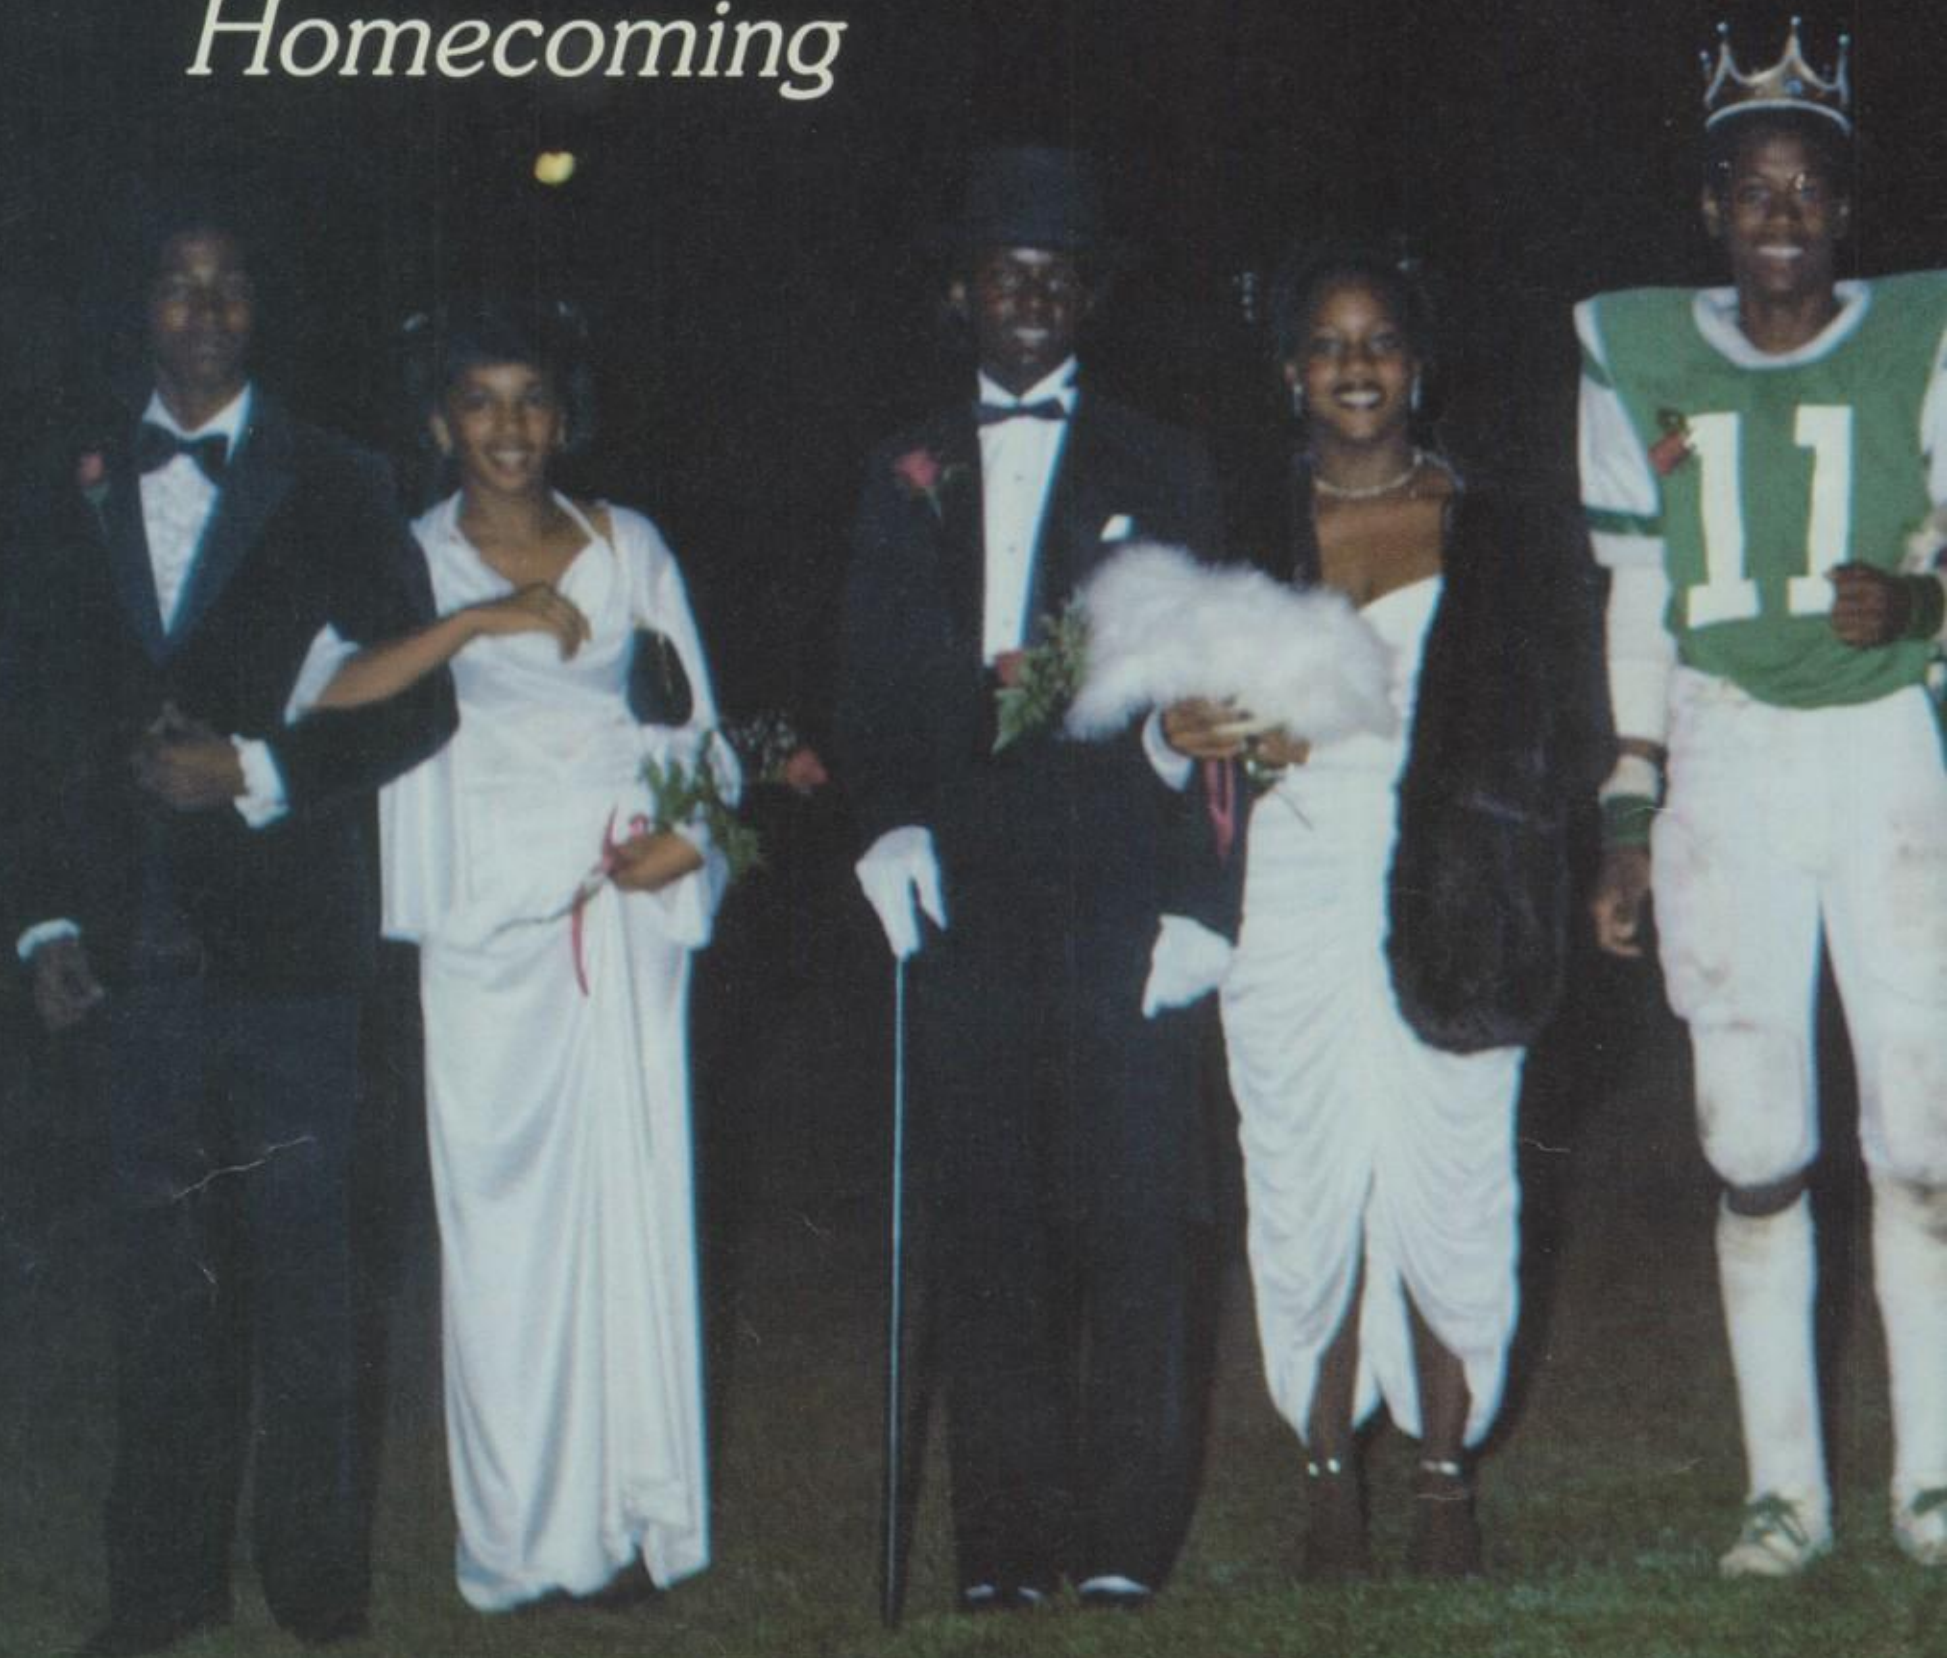

Parties make the world go 'round so the Sents had a party one day last October during lunch on Senior Square. There were jump ropes, pogo sticks, and best of all, FREE FOOD. The Sents came running from far and near to munch on ice cream cones, gnaw on licorice, and blow huge bubbles. After the square had filled, the results were amazing.

Shaun Ramirez can't believe the ice cream's free.

Homecoming

One of the highlights of the 1980 Homecoming festivities was the crowning of the Dillard Brothers as king and senior prince. At the homecoming rally held on Oct. 21, in the George Green Auditorium the royal court was presented to the student body. Tiffany Scott, 1979 homecoming queen, announced the royalty which had been elected by the students in each class.

The rally featured performances by the Pep Squad and the Modern Dance Class. The "Big Moment" came on Friday night, Oct. 24, when the king and queen were announced and crowned at halftime in a game against Leuzinger. Until then there had been two senior princesses and two senior princes. The band under the direction of Mr. Conrad Hutchinson provided the background music, "She Must Have Been A Special Lady."

Royal Court: Freshman Prince Dexter Boodram and Princess Tammy Lofton, Sophomore Prince Melvin Hill and Princess Kassondra Ricketts, Junior Prince Richard Hairston and Princess Jakita Harris, Senior Prince Bernard Dillard and Princess Nancy Vigil, Senior King Keith Dillard and Queen Marshun Beard.

I'm Coming Out...

... was the musical theme played by the IHS Marching Sentinel Band during the half-time presentation of the Inglewood-Leuzinger game on Oct. 24. The Royal Court was driven by the waiting fans, seated in the stands, as the royalty was announced. The Drill Team held decorated arches as the royal couples debouched onto the field. Finally, the King and Queen were announced and crowned.

The Seniors Have Left

Donna Hearn, "Love, peace, and IHS loves you."
Tracey Coleman: "Peace to all you Sentinels fans."

Donnon Bain: "Can I play now?"
Ricky DuBois: "WOW! It's like old times."

Colette Collins: "I'm getting older by the minute."
Tommy Jones: "Yeah I'm happy, I'm leaving."

The seniors have left, leaving behind the memories of four years at IHS. Their days now have become faded memories and pictures in a yearbook. In addition to the academic life, there were many memories that will always be cherished and never forgotten about good times at lunch, nutrition, and after school hours. Mr. Wiley was the class advisor. The class colors were blue, light blue and white. And the name of the class was "A TOUCH OF BLUE MAGIC".

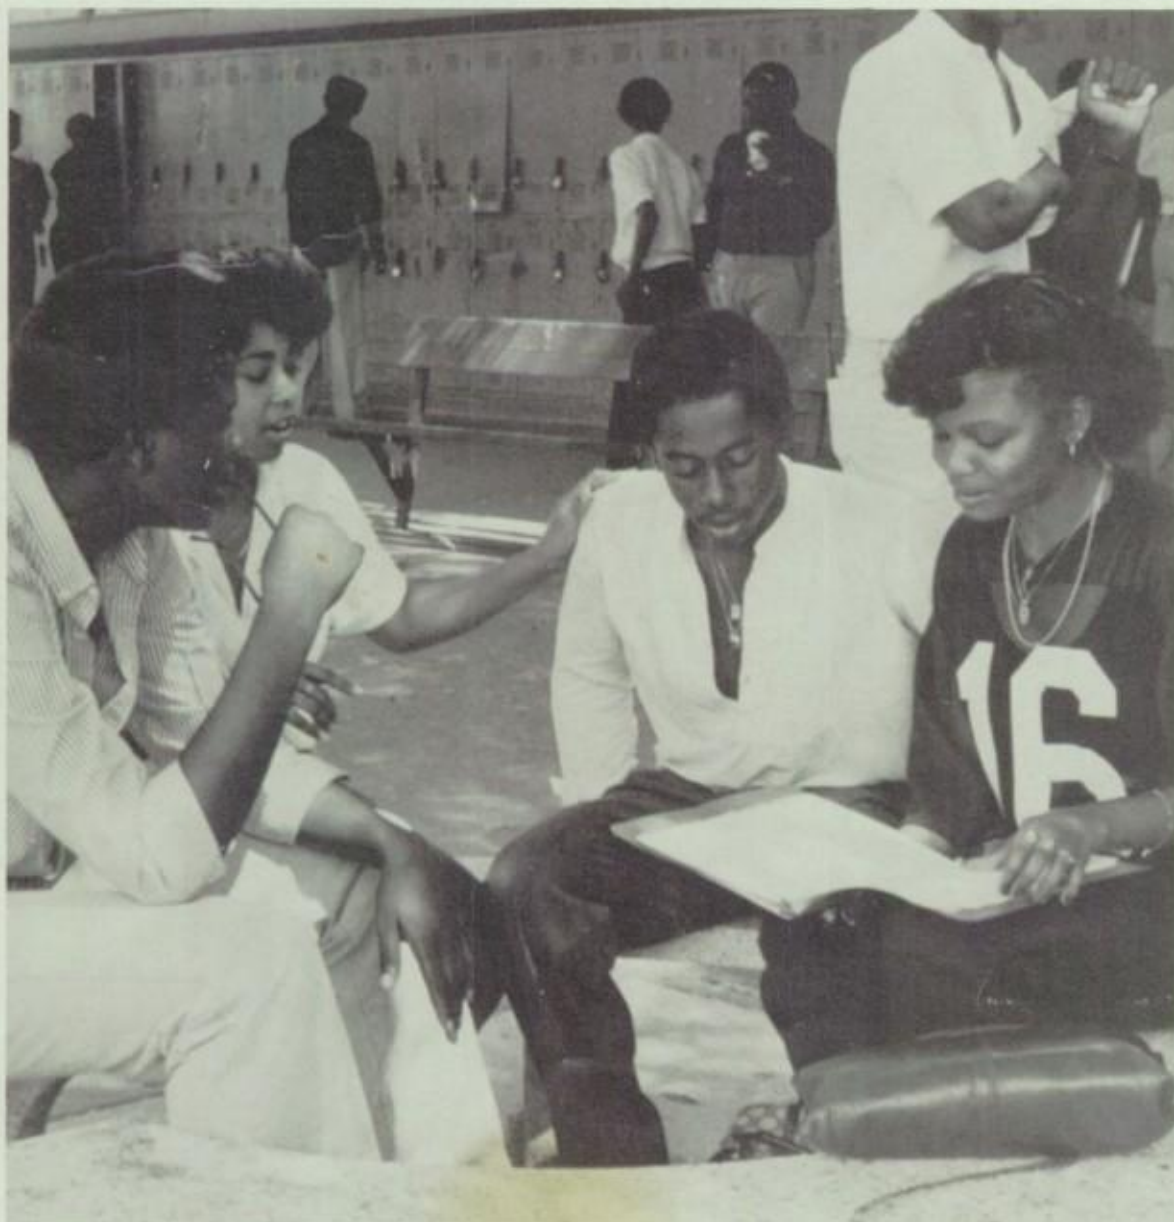

Tracey Coleman arrives just in time for Kiddy Day.

81 Seniors Are Sent-sational

Were the seniors of '81 sensational? Of course, they were! They have come a long way from computer attendance taking to computer grades to no computers at all. While the computers were trying to keep tabs on them for a while, those '81 seniors just seemed to beat the system every time. And those 3-day attendance reports went home anyway. Oh, Darn! In addition there was the modernization of dear old I.H.S. two years ago. At first there was absolutely no heat at all as the workmen claimed they were starting over from scratch. Then after those new systems went in, everyone could freeze and overheat at the same time. That was called "controlled environment."

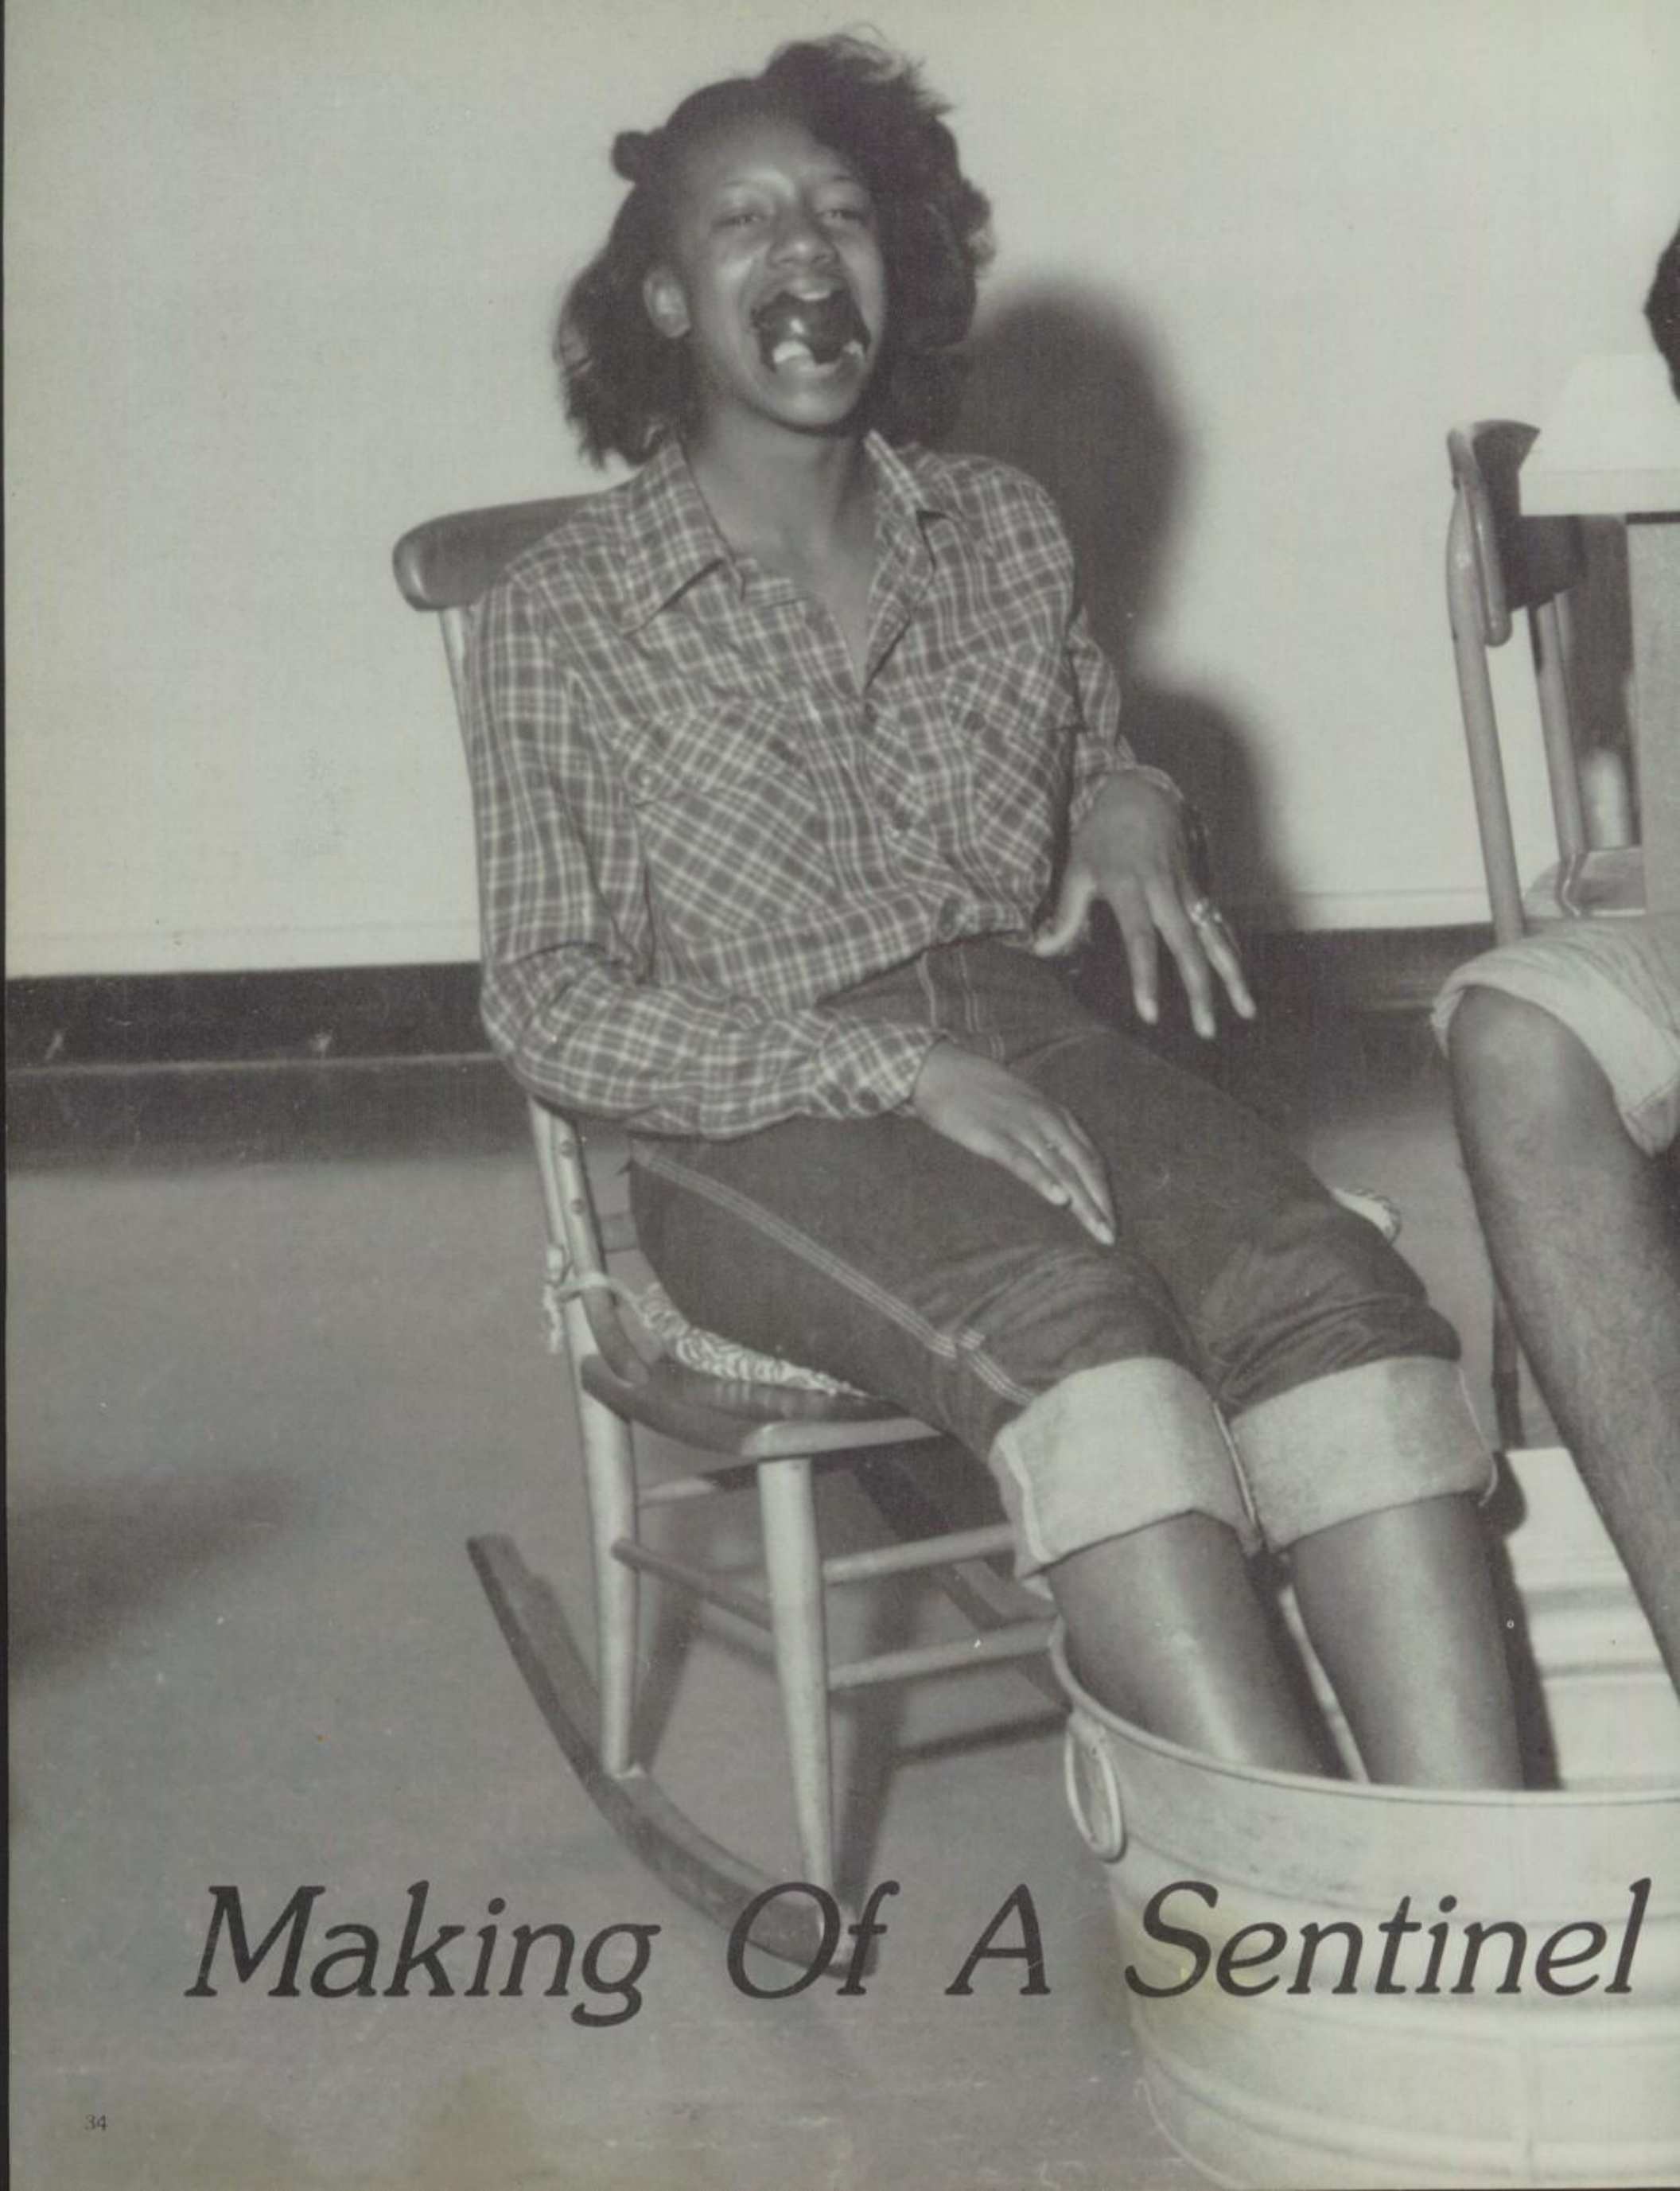

Tammy Robinson says, "Don't worry Keith with a little help you'll pass."

Then who could forget those jeri curls, braids, designer jeans, Nikes, Pumas, Adidas, tailor made pants, Philadelphia cuts, and, last but not least, that legendary hero, Mr. Bill. Those seniors hummed away those four years to "Whip It," "Shake your Pants," "Love Is Real," "When We Get Married," "Stomp," and "Don't Stop 'til You Get Enough." Things that seemed to cramp that old senior style were homework, class, failing, "Security," closed campus, food, and too many hours. Relief was spelled girls, men, nutrition, lunch, sports, rallies, shortened days, senior ditch-day, weekends, passing, and graduation. Need there be any more said?

Open Up Those Mysterious Doors And Let Us See What's There!

Oh my Goodness! Oh NO! OH Yes! Yes! Yes! For the very first time since Sentinels began arriving at IHS, those holy doors to the sacred faculty lounge were pulled open as the Grand March of Costumes, accompanied by the Marching Band Drums Corps, began. This was one of the lunch time festivities at the IHS Halloween party sponsored by the Student Council and Annual Staff.

Debbie Davis, Debbie Jackson, Colette Cullins, and Diane Roberts can't decide whether to jump rope, twist the hula hoops, or hop pogo sticks.

Sonya Joyce says the Devil made her do it.

The student body stopped dancing long enough to gather together to march through the faculty lounge.

Ken Brooks and Darryl Kessee can be IHS cheerleaders anytime.

Spirit Reigns Supreme

Two special spirit weeks were held last fall, the first being Junior week, Nov. 10-14. The first event was "Devo" Day when the students dressed as punk rockers, followed by a noon dance on Nov. 11. On Friday teachers were presented with either corsages or boutin-eers and apples. Teacher Appreciation Day was continued in a special assembly where Vivian Tann, a former IHS student now teaching at Afro-American Culture Center, spoke to the students followed by a skit including imitations of favorite teachers. Senior week featured a dress up day for cowboys and Indians. On Friday Nov. 21, there was an outdoor rally which featured a pie eating contest and old fashioned races and prizes were awarded.

Lydia Robinson, Shelia Jackson, Rhoda Roach, Ki-sha Lee, Linela McGrew and Kim Williams, work all morning and "Hop" at lunch.

Debbie Patton rejoices after competing in the pie-eating contest.

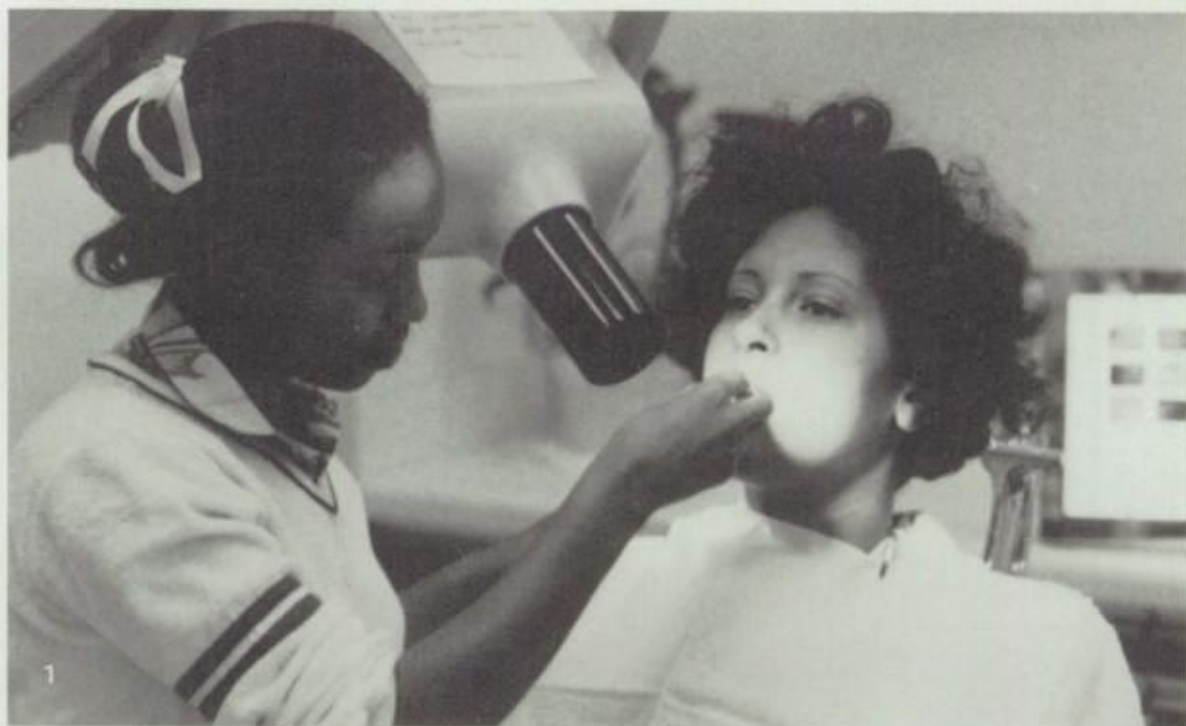

Kenny Baynes says, "If track was like this I'd run all the time."

SCROC Is Rockin'

More than one tenth of the IHS student body was taking training courses to prepare them for a career at SCROC, Southern California Regional Occupational Center located in Torrance. Students were assigned to one of three sessions, 7:30am, 12:30pm, or 3:00pm. The "SCROC" bus picked up students in front of the school to take them to their classes and would return them at the end of the three hour session. The on-the-job-training that the students received earned credits for graduation, and prepared them for immediate employment on completion of their classes. The variety of courses extended from banking to commercial remodeling.

- 1 Eva Rush says 1,2,3,4 cavities.
- 2 Busy body bankers busy at work.
- 3 Last call for SCROC goes, all aboard that's going aboard.
- 4 Mechanic trainee Demetri Durr performs surgery on a Ford transmission.
- 5 Computer wiz Roxanne Robinson tries out the new IBM.
- 6 The only brave volunteer Mimi Norwood could get to practice on was this dummy.

Showing Off In Style

The Home Economics Department presented its annual fashion show December 12th, in the George Green Auditorium, under the direction of Mrs. Erma Morgan who was the producer and director. Mr. Maurice Wiley, the twelfth grade counselor, was the master of ceremonies for the program who entertained with a dance to "What 'ya Doin'." The models, students of Mrs. Morgan modled lingerie, sportswear, dressy dresses, suits, and formal attire, escorted by gentlemen who volunteered from the student body.

In addition to the students who modled, artists in the field of modeling were featured: Ms. Sherry Moore, and Marc Johnson, a graduate of I.H.S. who also helped direct the show.

Senior Counselor Honored

The class of '81, the liveliest class around, is sorry to report but we are leaving this Sentinel town. Time is running short, days and nights are long, teachers and faculty wishing, wishing we would go on. College scouts are scouting, trying to get the best, while El Camino sits patiently waiting for the rest. Seniors are rushing, rushing here and there, trying to meet their deadlines which their parents cannot bare. Though this is not heaven at this time of year, the class of nineteen-eighty-one would like to emphasize our fear. We would like to thank our counselor, who is Mr. Wiley, and he is truly loved. His office is always cluttered, seniors wall to wall, there is hardly room for standing, except out in the hall. Some how the class pulled through, and they're very grateful too. In closing, the Mystical Magical class of 1981 gives thanks and gratitude to all who have helped us on our way and made us what we are today.

Varsity Football Rebuilds

This year the Varsity Football team was run by a new head coach, Robert Hunter. The team was made up of a handful of seniors, while the juniors dominated the team.

The varsity team started their league season with a strong win against Beverly Hills, 14-6. After a convincing victory over the Hawthorne Cougars, 20-8, the Sentinels had thoughts of playoffs, which were suddenly erased with a loss to eventual league champion, Aviation, 33-16, and a tie to cross-town rival Morningside, 9-9. The Varsity ended their season with a record of 2-4-1 in league play.

Sophs Move Up!

Although the sophomores' three starting players got moved up to Varsity, they were still able to come out 7-3 over-all and 5-2 in league. The sophomore team had some outstanding performers such as Ken Bagley RB who scored 4 touchdowns against Morningside, and Eric Taylor as DT/NG who sacked quarterbacks 12 times throughout the season. The sophomores' defense held its ground with all its opponents, while their offense picked off their opponents to almost a total of 150 points.

Freshmen Show Perfection

The freshmen had an undefeated season in their first year at IHS. The offense seemed unstoppable led by QB, Henry Green, R B's Teddy Johnson, and Vincent Bass who were a great asset to the offensive attack. Their opponents could never penetrate the defense holding six of their opponents under 12 points. The freshmen should continue their winning performance into their sophomore year.

I.H.S. Takes A Winning Shot

In his first season as coach, Art Bias guided the defending champion Sentinels to a playoff berth by losing only two of ten games in Ocean League competition. One defeat as a result of a triple-overtime game with Culver City, 52-50, the other a one-point lost to cross-town rival Morningside in a season ending game, which tied both teams for first place in league.

The Sentinels' success was due to a tough "zone defense," excellent outside shooting and clutch play by unheralded players.

In the Palm Springs' Invitational Tournament, in which only top rated teams competed, 10 teams in all, the Sents won the Consolation Championship, and Charisse Bremond was the MVP. In the non-league play, the ladies were 12-3.

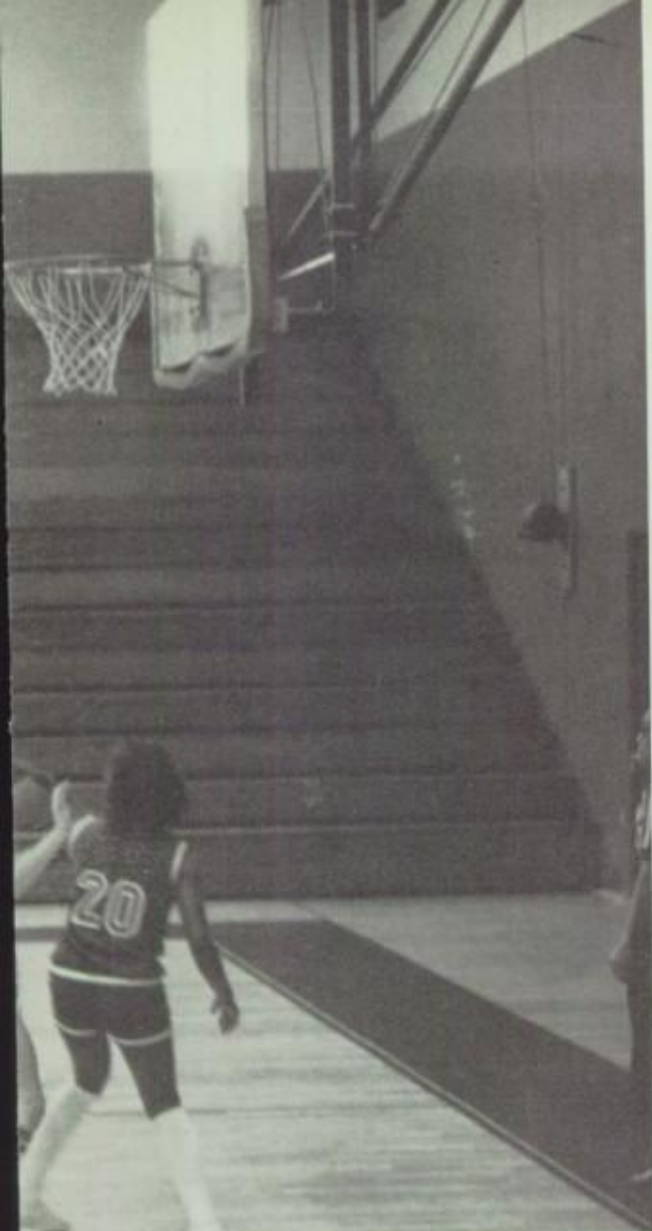

In league play the lady Sents finished their season with an 8-2 record, taking a strong second behind the Culver City team. The team was unique in that there were no seniors, just juniors and sophomores, all of whom will be back next year.

Deidra Duncan averaged 20 points and 15 rebounds per game. Charisse Bremond averaged 12 points and 9 assists per game. Deidra and Charisse made the All-League, first team Charisse and Deidra the second. Coach "Petro" said that the ladies worked hard all year. CIF Came Naturally

For the fifth consecutive season, the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team ventured into the playoffs, led by quality players and excellent coaching. The girls qualified with a 8-2 league record finishing second to Cluver City. The girls were a well balanced unit throughout the season which was demonstrated against Pius X in first round of CIF, 51-42, but in the second round the lady Sents were no match for "hot-shooting" Compton. The score was 70-51. With almost the entire team returning next year, the team seems destined for a championship season.

Wrestlers Are Few, But Tough

The wrestling team with their new coach, Joe Montgomery, faced their toughest year this season. Only 2 years old the IHS wrestling team went up against a lot of tough opponents and won a few matches.

The wrestling team was a small group and carried only a varsity team. The few who returned taught the new comers some of their moves and by the end of the season they were able to work as a team. When finals came, the wrestling team walked away with few medals.

Sents Preview Spring Sports At IHS

Spring is the time of year for many previews from the world of Fashion to the world of sports. IHS Sents are no exception to this rule. Unfortunately, as the deadline for the book arrived, many of the spring teams have not yet even climbed into their uniforms and are still brushing out the cobwebs of winter. Realizing this, the Annual Staff knows that giving a complete picture sportswise would be impossible, even though there is a strong CIF possibility for several teams. The next best thing that can be done under these circumstances is the "prediction" of what is to come even though the season will be completed upon the reading of this book.

In keeping with the "prediction idea" the IHS annual staff certainly realizes that this is a change in format. This change, however, should be considered as progress and the willingness to admit that from time to time that change is needed. In the predicting several administrative Sentinels have been consulted in hoping that this spring preview will make the Green and White better than ever.

Mr. Chick discusses the spring season with basketball players Andre Williams and James Hiff.

Lawson Beats The Spread

I predict that we will enter CIF in four of the five spring sports we field.

Boys' volleyball has front line strength, good setters, and lots of desire. Barring any injury factor, we ought to finish first in league and end up in the finals.

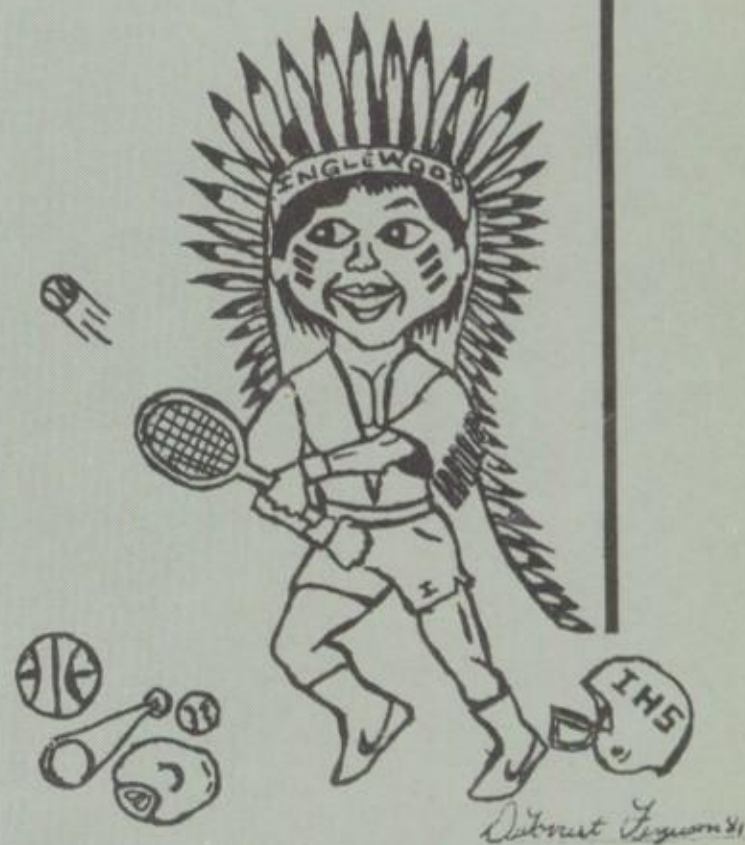

Girls' softball will finish first or second in league and enter CIF for the third consecutive year. A minimum of three rounds of CIF should be guaranteed.

Boys' and girls' track continue to be competitive. Several dual meets will be lost since we do not have all events entered. However, at least two boys and 1 girl ought to be in Sacramento for the finals.

Baseball will see CIF for the first time in several years. Depth in the pitching staff is weak but the excellence of the defensive play will keep us in the game.

Tennis is in a re-building year, especially the doubles factor. A few individuals will emerge in the tough competition.

Roger Lawson

Lady Hitters Are Back Again

I predict that the girls' softball team will place in the championships this year.

I predict that the girls' track team, who has an outstanding new coach this year, will have at least one runner who will go to the state championships this year.

Inglewood Tennis Team Produce The Best Racketeers

"Serve and Volley," according to coach Ed Sheets will be the theme of this year's IHS tennis team, and that theme will be carried out with dependable players like Kenny Baynes, Dino Valentin, Jimmy Fong, and Alan Hamilton. The team is in good shape and improving last season's league record.

The JV team, coached by Don Riley, can also be expected to win and provide the varsity squad with excellent backups.

Sentinels Make Their Move in CIF

After barely beating Mater Dei in first round playoff action, 38-36, the Sents saw the seconds tick off against them in the next round, losing to top ranked, undefeated (25-0) San Marcos, 64-47.

Trailing by only two points with a quarter gone, the Sents looked in good shape for another victory, but by the end of the fourth and final quarter the lead had increased to seventeen points, ending the Sents' hope of two straight championship years.

The Sentinels came to the playoffs after a difficult pre-season, then reasserted themselves in league, finishing in a tie for first place.

In the playoffs, Jeff Logan rose to the occasion.

Magic Appears

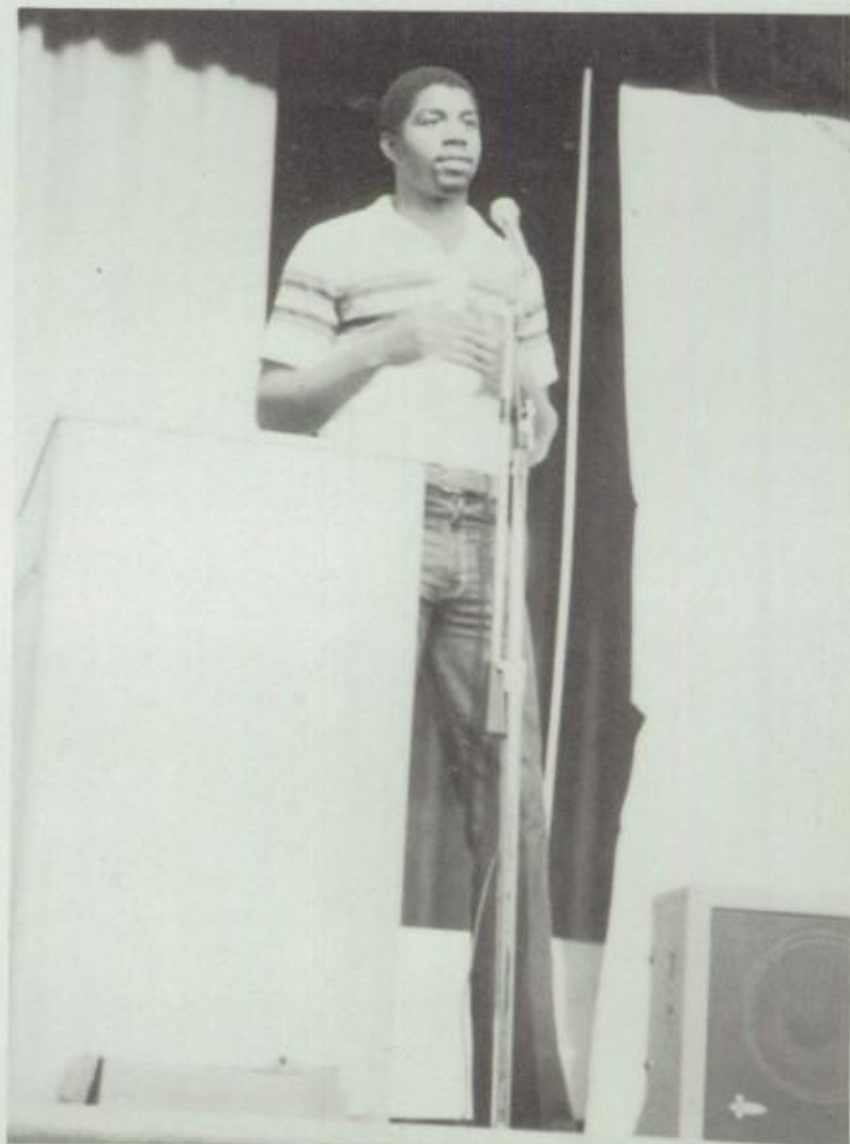

The Magical Day, February 18, 1981, was when Earvin "Magic" Johnson came to Inglewood High. He spoke at an "all boy's" assembly which lasted periods 6 and 7. With him, Magic brought a film which summarized the 1980 World Championships Basketball series against Philadelphia. After the film, Mrs. Chefney, the director of activities, introduced "Magic" Johnson. Before answering questions from the audience, "Magic" advised the students of the importance of finishing their education. During the questioning period the audience learned many things about "Magic," the fact that "Dr. J" helped him with his back shot, he puts no time limit on his practice, and he practices until they tell him to leave. His advice to young basketball players was to not just run up and down the court with the ball, but "think about what you're doing to make sure it's the best thing, and to practice, practice, practice!"

Earvin "Magic" Johnson signs autographs after the "special" assembly.

Principal, Louis Thomas, congratulates "Magic" Johnson on a job well done.

Even though this was an "al boys" assembly, a few lucky ladies managed to attend.

Hey Band! Breakdown!

Neither rain, snow, or want of sleep could keep those daring young band members from their diagrammed formations! Therefore, the IHS Marching Band practiced every morning X-period for half time performances at the football and basketball games, playing top 10 songs as "Another One Bites The Dust," "Shake Your Pants", and "One In a Million," accompanied by singer Damon Danate. The band, with the help of incoming freshmen players, went to several band competitions and parades. The biggest events were the annual spring concert, band day at Dodger Stadium, stuffed animal sale, and the pleasure of "turning out rival Morningside High's School band." The band, having the talent of the major-ettes and the addition of 16 tall flag carriers, had a very good year.

Up In The Morning And Out On The Field!

Early in the morning when most people were still in their beds with the covers over their heads, the I.H.S. Drill Team was up and out practicing for perfection. These talented young ladies were picked by performing a dance routine, marching in formation and doing a fight song routine. The drill team performed at football and basketball, half-time shows, rallies, assemblies, and at special events they served as hostesses.

Everything's Coming Up Annuals

The 1981 Annual Staff as they begin their work day.

The 1981 Annual Staff as they end their day.

Arturo Leal and Ella Clemons discuss the state's affairs while Karen Jackson takes notes.

Mrs. Woolsey, annual Staff advisor, looks astonished at some of the "clever things" members of the Annual Staff think up.

One of the highlights of this past year of the 1981 Annual Staff was marching to City Hall to have their picture taken in their night clothes. As they left IHS, windows opened and the inmates gaped on with disbelief. But, in a way, this was kind of an ordinary day in the life of Annual Staff as they tried to brighten up their lives and everyone else's. Also there was the day that the staff invaded senior square at lunch giving out free ice cream cones, licorice, and bubble gum to waiting hands while jump ropes turned and pogo sticks hopped. The object of this was to bring joy to the campus.

Thanksgiving was another celebration complete with costumes and apple bobbing. The why some of the things happened that did was that four young ladies attended the yearbook camp in San Diego last summer where much special training was given. For one week Miriam Kemp, Susan Odom, Karen Jackson, Lisa Babilonia mixed with students from schools all over the state of California learning all the particulars of layout, copy writing, picture editing, and ad getting. The result was a marvelous year here at IHS, plus the best annual ever, and Bernard is loved.

They Are Calling Out The Cheers

Who are those girls that help keep the spirit up in the crowd and amongst the guys on the football field and on the basketball court? Who you ask? They are the 1980-81 IHS Pep Squad. The Pep Squad consists of one advisor, Mrs. Munn, and 24 girls- 9 Varsity, 6 Song, 6 Junior Varsity, and 4 Flag. Mrs. Munn is the new advisor and a teacher of Special Education.

Throughout the year the Pep Squad has cheered at the football games and basketball games. They have participated in rallies and school activities. One such activity was Halloween Day, where some dressed up as Hell's Angels and most were Punk-Rockers. What was funny about Halloween Day was that night when Inglewood played against Hawthorne in football; the girls didn't cheer in their regular uniforms, but they cheered in their Halloween costumes!

Varsity turns into Punk Rockers at Halloween.

The International Club is the place where Sentinels of different countries blend together. They shared cultural activities such as music, foods, and customs from different parts of the world. With the help of Dr. Nava, they studied cultural festivities and traditions from Honduras, Costa Rica, Mexico, Peru, Columbia, Panama, Guatemala, El Salvador, Cuba, Korea, and Vietnam.

Scholars Congregate

The purpose of the California Scholarship Federation (CSF) is to recognize and promote academic excellence. CSF is open each semester to students with A's "and one B" in academic classes and another in an academic elective class.

The members participate in a variety of school activities.

This year CSF members visited UC Irvine, sponsored a valentine candy and a bake sale. The members honored one of their outstanding seniors with a $100 scholarship at graduation.

When Writers Write

This year's journalism class which consisted of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors were responsible for putting out the school newspaper under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Chepney. Since there were both beginners and experienced writers in the class, the upperclassmen offered encouragement and advice to the others.

Underclass Persons Light Up IHS

Amid all the talk that seniors think that they are superior, they wouldn't be where they are today if there were no underclass persons. Therefore, these pages are dedicated to the task of showing how marvelous they really can be.

The Board

A school yearbook is a pictorial review of the past year's accomplishments. It is also designed to provide an opportunity to recall the many wonderful experiences shared while enrolled in school. Experiences such as athletic and social events marked by academic achievement and scholarship.

As we recognize the accomplishments of the past year, we must also recognize our parents and school staffs for their time, encouragement, and effort in making this production possible.

In the same way, we also bid farewell to our graduates and wish them continued success as they enter the many facets of life.

Administrators Encourage, Support & Direct

Accepting the premise that the educational process is a preparation for the future, administrators serve as catalysts for that process. Observe any school connected program, activity or event and you will see an administrator there encouraging, supporting and directing students as they develop their skills and talents.

We gladly share these persons here at Inglewood High School who untiringly work for the betterment of our students.

Parlez français Ou Payez Beaucoup!

Mrs. Pamela Klein who was born in Pennsylvania and raised in Los Angeles was the originator of "Parlez ou payez" (speak or pay) to offending French students who forget and speak English in her French class. L'hippopotame or the piggy bank hippopotamus maintains the treasury. In addition, to graduating from Grant High School and UCLA, Madame Klein attended the University of Bordeaux in France. When Madame is not teaching French, she plays tennis, reads, hooks rugs, and takes courses to enhance her knowledge. In conclusion, Madame said, "Le français est la langue internationale."

Ms. Smith challenges the wild bunch.

Mr. Waffan sighs, "We have to stop meeting like this."

"Hutchie" Does It Again!

Conrad Hutchison III has been teaching music for 16 years, of those 16, 4 at IHS. He taught at three other schools before he came to California. He was born in Mobile, Alabama, and he also attended various schools in the South. He attended high school at Grambling Lab High and then went on to Grambling State University where he majored in music. He completed his musical education at McNeese State University, which is where he received his Master's Degree.

He writes and arranges music for the marching band; he also teaches classes for orchestra, beginning winds, and math. However, music isn't his only interest, he also likes to disco, play chess and enjoys all sports. As for the school he said "It has the potential to be dynamite."

Mountain Climbing & Teaching Too!

Mrs. Tsai a native of China, came to California in 1957. She began teaching math at IHS in 1972, and has loved every minute of it. She attended high school in China and went to Won Ti University in Hong Kong.

Mrs. Tsai is married and has two children in college. In her spare time she enjoys raising pets and mountain climbing. Her main goal as a teacher is contributing her knowledge to society and the next generations. When asked what she liked best about I.H.S. Mrs. Tsai replied, "The fellow teachers, and the students."

Mr. & Mrs. Costa Form A Winning Team

A familiar sight on the IHS campus is the wife-husband team of Venetta and Dick Costa. While Mrs. Costa was keeping records, selling dance tickets, and paying requisitions, Mr. Costa helps to maintain a clean and safe campus. Married for 26 years with 4 children, the Costas enjoy working together not to mention the gas they save. They also worked the football games selling food and taking tickets.

Their main hobby is camping and Mr. Costa would like the students to form a clean up committee so that the campus will always look good.

Once again the IHS campus could not have survived without the aid of the cafeterial and custodial staffs. Often students do not realize all of the behind the scenes work that is done on their behalf. However, these people are busy all year long helping the "educational process" along.

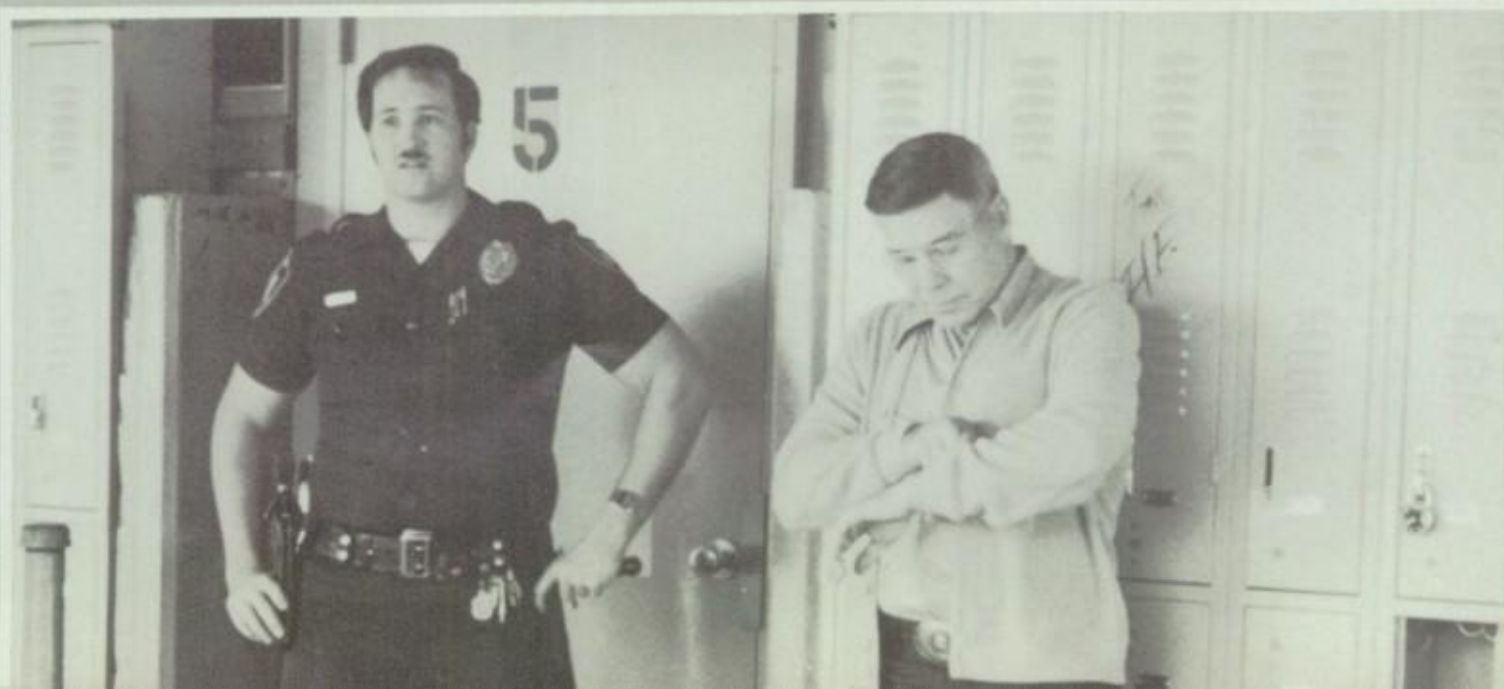

Mr. Evans instructs Vincent Bass on how to use the shaper machine which prepares students for industrial employment.

Henrietta Curtis carefully prepares the day's lunches.

Parent Groups Help Sents

The PTSA was a great asset to the student body and community. This year's PTSA conducted a tutoring program, sponsored a bake sale, provided trophies for the Black History Week essay winners, and sponsored scholarships for deserving seniors. Their aim, as always, was to assist in the welfare of all students attending Inglewood High School.

The Sertoma Club, which stands for Service To Mankind, is a group of men based in the city of Inglewood devoted to the welfare of their city. The club not only sponsors many worthy causes, but also manages to help the Annual Staff with their many projects. For the past three years, the club has sponsored IHS students attendance at yearbook camp. For this, a special thanks is extended to the Sertoma Club for helping to make the 1981 Annual better than ever.

Principal's Advisory Council

The IHS Principal's Advisory Council, which consisted of administrators, teachers, parents, and students, advised the principal on school matters and educational programs, as well as overseeing the School Site Council. Through the council's efforts, IHS received over $50,000 for the school improvement fund. This year's chairperson, Mr. Kenneth Lindh, has tried to focus specifically on the appearance of the school, both the exterior and interior.

Closing

We Made The Deadline!

As the year ended, one wanted to jump on a stretcher and jump in an ambulance and never come back. But that was called challenge and was something to be overcome. The message went out during those early years that nothing good comes easily. With all of the events of the past year, some of the most cherished moments were trying to make those deadlines and wondering if those pictures were ever going to come back from the studio, not to mention proofreading. The year also offered the opportunity to meet and to get to know many people better, students, faculty, and friends that might have never been met or known if annual staff had not provided an opportunity. In closing, annual staff wishes you all good health and God Bless.
